MICHIGAN

Guide for Transfer Students

2025

Lead the Way

Becoming a leader doesn't just happen. It takes patience, tenacity, and drive. Leadership develops when you challenge yourself among the brightest and the best.

Each year, hundreds of the nation's best and brightest, like you, transfer to the University of Michigan from other institutions. Your talents, skills, and dreams have an immediate impact on our campus culture and community.

Immerse yourself in our world filled with big ideas and a passion for the future. Thrive amid over two centuries of excellence, tradition, and opportunity. Realize your true potential when you're inspired by world-renowned faculty at a top university.

Make this journey, and it will become part of you forever.

A Competitive Michigan Transfer Student

Competitive transfer applicants will have taken a strong curriculum of transferable college courses. As we assess the curriculum elected, we are looking for classes that satisfy distribution requirements, align with academic area of interest/major, and/or demonstrate progression of curriculum (upper-level coursework).

If a transfer applicant has less than two full semesters of graded college work to present at the time of application, we will also consider their high school academic record as part of our evaluative process.

In addition to an applicant's academic preparation, we use a holistic review process and also consider a student's personal background, involvement and accomplishments outside of the classroom, their essays, and their expressed interest in transferring to U-M as part of our evaluative process.

Application Materials

All transfer students are required to submit the following by the deadline:

- Completed application (The Common Application and University of Michigan questions). Note: Ross School of Business, School of Public Health, and School of Information have unique application elements. Please visit their websites for more information.
- Proof of high school completion, which can be demonstrated by a high school transcript with a graduation date, GED exam results, O level or A level exam results, or IB diploma exam results.
- Official transcripts from all postsecondary institutions, including any college courses taken in high school or during the summer.
- Current and future course selection.
- Application fee. (Application fee waivers are available for those students who are unable to pay. Fee waivers can be requested on the Common Application.)
- Optional test scores: ACT or SAT if taken as a high school student, and you would like to include your test scores with your application.

ACT (U-M code is 2062) SAT (U-M code is 1839)
- TOEFL, IELTS, or MET scores if English is not your first language. Required proficiency score ranges can be found at admissions.umich.edu/exams.
- Requirements for specific schools and colleges (e.g., portfolio, audition request, recommendations, résumé, etc.), if applicable.
- Gap in education explanation. If, for any reason, you took a semester or more off from your education, please explain why.

Note: Visit admissions.umich.edu/requirements-country for additional international requirements.

Application Submission

You can complete our application online at commonapp.org. All other required information, such as transcripts in a PDF file, must come from the issuing school or examination board directly.

We highly recommend that all required documents be submitted electronically. You can do so via your application vendor, an online document service such as Parchment, Scrip-Safe, SCOIR, National Student Clearinghouse, or send transcripts via email to transcripts@umich.edu.

How may we help you?

You may contact any member of the transfer team with questions via email at oua-transfers@umich.edu. You can also reach our Call Center at 734-764-7433. The Call Center is open Monday-Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. ET.

Scholarships

As a transfer student at Michigan, you may be eligible for a wide range of scholarships. Scholarships are awarded based on academic merit; special talents, interests, or qualities; financial need; or other criteria. Also, there are a limited number of scholarships offered specifically to students transferring from community colleges in Michigan.

Child Care Subsidy

If you're considering transferring to Michigan and have children, you may be able to take advantage of the U-M Child Care Subsidy Program, which provides funds to assist students with the cost of licensed child care. You'll be required to meet eligibility criteria and must submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and application for the subsidy.

Ann Arbor

When you come to Michigan, we know you'll be proud to call Ann Arbor home. Our city is big enough to offer world-class resources, but also has an intimate, small-town feel. In fact, Ann Arbor consistently ranks in the top 10 for best cities to live in the U.S., with an A+ rating from Niche.com.

Even if you've never set foot on campus, our Office of Student Life offers resources and support to help you navigate living in Ann Arbor.

"Studying at Michigan has always been a dream of mine. I just took a slightly different and longer path to get here. I started my college career at another university about 15 years ago. Going back for a degree had always been something I wanted, but I never felt like it was possible. U-M has been incredibly welcoming and supportive during the entire transfer process. Keep moving forward, keep trying new things, keep learning, and success will find you."

Adam Childers

Washtenaw Community College to U-M LSA
(Asian Studies and Computer Science)

Transfer of Credits

While LSA does not have a minimum credit or GPA requirement, most of our admitted transfer students have earned a cumulative GPA of at least a B (3.0 on a 4.0 scale) or better. Most coursework completed at an accredited college or university is transferable, as long as it's in an area of study available at U-M and you received a grade no lower than "C." You'll most likely receive the number of semester hours of credit earned on the campus where you completed the coursework, regardless of the number of credit hours the comparable U-M course offers.

» transfercredit.ugadmiss.umich.edu

Courses can transfer in one of three ways:

EQUIVALENT CREDIT

Courses at other colleges and universities whose content closely matches that of courses here at Michigan. These will appear on your U-M transcript with a U-M course number. Equivalent credit can be used to satisfy distribution requirements and courses needed for degree/major requirements.

DEPARTMENTAL CREDIT

Courses at other colleges and universities whose descriptions don't match courses in the same department on our campus. Departmental credit is transferable and is usually applicable as an elective credit, but it may only be used to satisfy distribution or major requirements with the permission of an academic or major advisor.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL CREDIT

Courses that cover a broad range of topics within a general area of study that cannot be assigned to any individual academic department. Interdepartmental credit is usually applicable as an elective credit but, again, may only be used to satisfy distribution or academic major requirements with the permission of an academic advisor.

For more information: admissions.umich.edu/transfer-credit

Credits earned outside the U.S. are converted to U.S. semester credits. A course-by-course evaluation submitted by Educational Credential Evaluators (ECE) (ece.org) is advised in addition to submission of all transcripts along with English translations.

The Michigan Transfer Agreement

The University of Michigan participates in the Michigan Transfer Agreement (MTA). For specific requirements visit:

Community College

Transferring to a four-year school can be overwhelming, but the University of Michigan works hard to make the process as easy as possible. You may contact any member of the transfer team with questions via email at oua-transfers@umich.edu.

The University of Michigan supports the principles that underlie the MTA. Although U-M does not have a general education requirement, courses in the MTA block will be individually evaluated for their role in meeting degree requirements as outlined in the MTA implementation handbook.

“My transfer experience at first was a roller coaster with many ups and downs, like missing my family, but I was also so proud of myself for making it here. Overall, I enjoyed the ride so much that I would get in line again.”

Andrea Rodriguez

Henry Ford Community College to
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

The college experience is as much about what happens outside the classrooms and labs as it is about what happens inside. When you transfer to Michigan, you'll find daily opportunities for growth, engagement, leadership, and fun. We bridge passion, purpose, and spirit in a way that no other institution in the world can match.

Academic Support

You won't have to go it alone at U-M, and we encourage you to take advantage of the wealth of student support resources from day one. Our Math Lab, Sweetland Center for Writing, Multicultural Councils, and Career Center are just a few of our many resources to assist undergraduates. You'll also have access to state-of-the-art facilities and technology.

Student Clubs and Organizations

At U-M, you'll be inspired and challenged through more than 1,700 student clubs and organizations. You'll learn from peers from every state and 100+ countries. You'll discover that "Leaders and Best" is more than just a line in our fight song. It's a way of life. Embrace our commitment to community service through the work of such groups as the Detroit Partnership, U-M Stars for the Make-A-Wish Foundation, Foundation for International Medical Relief of Children, and dozens more. Or enjoy recreation with intramural sports like sand volleyball, soccer, and broomball. Join Fraternity & Sorority Life at Michigan (with more than 60 chapters on campus), which is characterized by lifelong friendships, service to the community, leadership, and, of course, fun.

Campus Life

Our campus is large enough to be exciting, yet small enough to feel like you belong. Home to about 50,000 students with a vast diversity of interests, ideas, cultural and economic backgrounds, philosophies, beliefs, passions, and hobbies — this is a place that will prepare you to become a citizen of the world. At the same time, it's easy to get to know people in campus environments scaled to ease students into circles of friends. Life is excellent on this quintessential American campus designed to fit every need.

Veterans Information

We deeply appreciate the sacrifices veterans of our armed services have made for the country. As a veteran, you are welcome on campus and will find an office designed to meet your needs at the Veteran and Military Services (VMS) program. This program advocates for veterans and all military members who are part of the University of Michigan community. Staff will answer your questions and guide you to information and referral resources that will help you adjust and thrive as an important and highly valued member of our campus community.

Military Education Transfer Credits

The University of Michigan is conservative in awarding credit for learning experiences at military schools. U-M may award credits for military courses completed if the courses are consistent with university policy on granting credit when there is an equivalent course taught at U-M. The amount and level of credit given is determined by the faculty in the appropriate university department.

Applicants should submit transcript(s) from the Defense Language Institute (DLI) and/or a joint services transcript to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions for evaluation and notification of transfer credit available.

“Previously, I was an intelligence analyst in the army and decided I wanted to go to graduate school. Transferring to U-M was a fantastic choice! In addition to academics, I made some lifelong friends and learned relevant lessons for life, not just what’s required in the coursework. The Veteran and Military Services Program was also able to meet my specific needs to understand how to use my military benefits at school.”
