

2025 LOVE DATA WEEK SPEAKER

Laura Guertin

Penn State University

Distinguished Professor,
Earth Sciences

Distinguished Professor Laura Guertin holds a Ph.D. in Marine Geology & Geophysics from the University of Miami's Rosenstiel School of Marine & Atmospheric Science and has served as faculty at Penn State Brandywine (PA) since 2001. She is an Honorary Fellow of the Geological Society of America and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. She has received additional national recognitions, as well as grant funding from the National Science Foundation to enhance teaching and student learning in undergraduate education. With a passion for science outreach, she taps into creative approaches such as quilting to engage audiences in learning about Earth science and its applications. She is the 2024 Faculty/Staff Big Ten Academic Alliance (BTAA) Data Viz Champion.